9/26 SEPTA Train Service Disruption between Wilmington and Claymont - SEPTA train service in Delaware is currently suspended due to a propane fuel spill one quarter mile north of milepost 25 on the Northeast Corridor between Claymont and Wilmington. Claymont Station will continue to be served. DART Bus Route 59 will be extended to Claymont and DART will also arrange for additional bus service if needed. After consulting with Amtrak, DART expects the fuel spill to be corrected in time for the PM rush hour service.
